

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XX.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 22, 1892.

NO. 42

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The K. C. pay car passed up the road Tuesday.

—Blackberries are plentiful at 25 cents a bucket.

—The juvenile club was entertained this week by Miss Bettie Robinson and also by Miss Nellie Boyston.

—Mr. Mike Woolwine and Miss Mattie Halcumbe were married at the clerk's office Monday by Rev. J. R. Terry.

—The Nicholasville and Lancaster base ball clubs will play a game of base ball this afternoon near Mr. Herring's.

—Mr. T. B. Robinson has been elected superintendent of that part of the Lancaster and Lexington pike, which lies in Garrard county.

—Miss May Hughes entertained her young friends on Tuesday evening. About 30 couples were present. Refreshments were served at the proper time and all enjoyed themselves immensely. On the same evening Miss Fannie West gave an elegant party at her home near Hiattsville.

—Prof. C. Merritt, of Fidelity, Ill., is expected to arrive to-day to take charge of the Lancaster band and orchestra. He comes highly recommended and will have the boys playing in a short while, despite the predictions of Lancaster's numerous croakers and loafers that "they will never make a success of the band."

—Kee Kinnaird attended the Home party at Richmond Wednesday night. Mr. Sam McDonald, a popular traveling salesman of Cincinnati, was here this week. Mr. E. Sprague, of Danville, is visiting Mr. Casey Dwyer. Mr. Roy C. White and wife have returned to their home in Madison. Miss Florence Harris is visiting Miss Grace Hacker at Richmond. Mr. Herbert Price, of Danville, is visiting Mr. Fred Frisbie. Misses Bessie McLean, of Nashville, and Jane Lusk are guests of Miss Maggie Jennings. Miss Mary Risk, of Dayton's best, is visiting Miss Nannie Gammes.

—The Kentucky commissioners to the Columbian exposition have selected the "Trumpet vine" as the floral emblem of the dark and bloody ground, but it does not seem to meet with the favor of the press. Probably the "Pumpkin vine" would answer better, and this suggestion is made in the interest of peace. When the tobacco, timber and bluegrass and pennyroyal exhibit is spread out to the view of the admiring nations of the earth, there is no likelihood that Kentucky will be required to show anything else than a few fast horses and some superb sour-mash made before the war, sah!

—M. Henrion, the French savant, in a work entitled "The Degeneration of the Human Race," says that Adam was 123 feet high and five 118 feet. The Talmud has this to say of Adam's height: "He was so tall that he stood with feet on earth and head in Heaven until after God pressed him down at the time of the fall." Rabbi Jusha says that when he lay on the earth "his body completely covered it." Another Talmudic story says: "To judge how long he was, understand that his body stretched from one end of the earth to the other, and it takes a man 300 years to walk that distance." * * The angels were awed with wonder when they saw that gigantic human being, and bowed before him crying "Holy, holy, holy." Then God reduced his size by cutting off great chunks of flesh. "These are all absurd legendary stories, of course; but where did Henrion get his figures for the 123 foot calculation mentioned in the opening?" Adams height, according to M. Henrion, was equal to that of 20 men of an average of six feet. Henrion must have gotten his figures from his imagination. It was doubtless fortunate that Adam had his dimensions reduced, as it must have been somewhat uncomfortable to be walking about with his head enveloped with clouds and in constant danger of being mistaken for a lightning rod by the elements that surrounded him. Adam has been the cause of much speculation ever since his creation and will probably continue to excite the curiosity of the world for ages to come.

—Two inches of rain fell in 24 hours at Emporia, Kansas, and, water sports are reported in various parts of the State.

—In addition to black small-pox and cholera which have caused hundreds of deaths in Russia, that luckless domain is now afflicted with typhus fever. Great mortality has already resulted.

—The first fatality resulting from the military occupancy of Homestead was caused by a drunken private in Pittsburgh mortally wounding Capt. Frank C. Calhoun, a veteran of actual war.

—The Senate amendment, increasing from $310,000 to $500,000 the appropriation for the government exhibit at the World's Fair, has been non-concurred in by the House. Yeas, 129; nays, 65.

—The House passed the bill making it unlawful for any government official to contract with a person or firm which employs Pinkerton's detectives or any other association of men as armed guards by a vote of 169 to 33.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Squire Mullins had 12 sheep killed by lightning Tuesday.

—J. W. Gentry had a fine mule and cow killed by lightning last week.

—Miss Elia Joplin began the public school here Monday with good attendance.

—Walter Rivers and Isaac Dean were fined last week for not complying with the road law.

—It is a noticeable fact that a large majority of the children born in this county in 1892 are boys.

—Gip Langford was fined $100 for selling liquor and failing to pay he is now confined in the county jail.

—A small cyclone passed through the southern part of this county, last week, doing considerable damage to houses and barns.

—Thieves entered several spring houses last Sunday night, in and around town, and relieved them of lots of good milk and butter.

—Henry Catron and wife are visiting in Virginia. Jailer King is in the county attending the bedside of his mother, who is not expected to live.

—Mrs. S. E. Brooks, of Crab Orchard, attended the funeral of her "Aunt Pop" Proctor. J. R. Cass, operator at Broadhead for the last seven years, has resigned and James Farmer, of Hazel Patch, will succeed him.

—Mrs. James Maret, after several months' illness, is now able to walk out in the yard. Mrs. J. W. Nesbitt has returned from a two weeks' stay with her father at Orlando. Hon. F. F. Robbitt, the "Cicero of the Mountains," was here Tuesday and Wednesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sparks have returned after a short visit to friends in London. Mr. John Lewis, of Texas, after several years' absence, is here with relatives. Miss Gertrude Weber has returned home after three weeks visit to friends in Eminence. J. M. Williams, Harry Weber and A. J. Fish are attending the Richmond fair.

—James Adams, of Garrard county, is here and will accompany his daughters on their return home. Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Poynter were called to Garrard Tuesday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. R. E. Thompson. Miss Reed Baker has returned from London, where she has been with her father for some time. Judge G. W. McClure and Col. F. L. Thompson were in Somerset Monday on business. Edgar Albright has been visiting relatives near Paint Lick for the past week.

—For many years a tall, old-fashioned clock stood in the rear parlor of Mr. H. Carpenter's store, in this place. For a decade "it stopped short" in its career and remained silent. Mr. C. concluded one day to sell the old relic and when he mentioned the matter to a prospective purchaser the old time piece entered a protest by striking one, although it had not been touched. Mr. M. C. Miller, our county clerk, bought it and is a witness to the peculiar action of the old clock.

—Mr. R. L. Garner, who has gained notoriety by his studies of the monkey language, left New York in the steamship Mohawk, last week, en route to Africa, where he will, with a band of 27 members, enter the forests for the further investigation of this peculiar hobby. Mr. Garner is a native of Georgia and is a highly educated gentleman. He was at one time a professor in southern colleges and taught at Williamsburg and spent some time in this county 11 years ago, where he made many friends.

—The Direct Cable Co. have been testing the new telegraph sounder of Mr. James Maret in their New York offices. The manager says "the clear resonant quality possessed by the instrument and which is the salient feature of the instrument renders the signals easy to be distinguished and at the same time creates a pleasant impression upon the ear. For these reasons we believe it will be found very serviceable." On account of the improved quality of the sound and the compact form in which it is put together, it is likely to be well received wherever it is introduced.

—For some years there has at various times appeared to different people in this place, after nightfall, a strange animal, apparently about four feet long and 20 inches high, of light yellowish color and with a long tail. This animal was first observed by a night operator here, who claimed that it prowled around the depot at different times. He shot at it. Other night operators have seen it run by the office, making 30 foot leaps. William Davis was chased into his store one night by it. Thomas Taylor met it in the road a few nights since when it leaped clear over him and disappeared as a flash. In his fright Mr. Taylor forgot to use his revolver. Saturday night, near the depot, Pete Langford, a colored man, tore down a panel of fence in a mad effort to escape this strange beast, which he met in the road. The animal cleared him at one bound and disappeared. Reputable witnesses and sober ones at that, are ready to testify to having seen this "what is it?"

—"Aunt Pop" Proctor quietly passed away at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at the home of her nephew, W. M. Poynter.

ter. She was born in this county in 1804. When quite young she gave herself to Christ and nothing has ever turned her from His loving protection. She was married to James Proctor, with whom she lived until his death in 1855, after which she kept house where Mr. J. J. Brown now lives. Having no children and her sister dying when W. M. and H. C. Poynter were quite young, she took them and has since performed the part of a kind and loving mother. In 1872 she sold her property and has since lived with him, who cared for her so nobly in her old age and spoke to her words of cheerfulness in her dying moments. She was kind and good to all, at any and all times ready and willing to administer words of comfort to the poor and oppressed. She being tired with the battles of this life "took her burdens for a pillow and lay down to peaceful dreams," only to be awakened by the sweet sound of Gabriel's trumpet that shall call his children home to mingle with the gentle zephyrs of an eternal paradise. At 10 A. M., yesterday, her many friends followed her remains to the church, where Rev. P. J. Hitt delivered an appropriate eulogy, after which she was quietly laid to rest in the old cemetery.

—Our stage mail line has changed hands for the third time since July 1. It is now owned and operated by Mr. Conter, of Bryansville, who will make his home at Lancaster.

—The party given by the Misses Dwyer, a few nights ago, was enjoyed by a very large number of guests. Everything went off in nice order and a good time was seen by all present.

—Born, to the wife of B. W. Givens, a few days ago, a 10 pound girl. We are glad that Mr. Givens is so well pleased over his good luck. We are always glad to see the smiles stand across a good man's face.

—Our trustees have secured Miss Helen Thurmond for a teacher in our school this fall. She comes well recommended and we hope she may teach us a splendid school. Joe Robinson will teach at Bradfordsville this fall.

—Mrs. S. E. Rice accompanied her sister, Mrs. T. M. Goodknight to her home in Frankfort Sunday. Mrs. Goodknight has been making her friends and relatives very pleasant by visiting them for a few weeks. Jacob Robinson, of Middlesboro, gave us a very pleasant call last week.

—We are indebted to the postmistress at Lancaster for her attention in sending us our I. J. S. When she sends them after the mail has been made up for this office and put in the pouch, otherwise we would not get them till next day. [Our thanks are also due her. Ed.]

—Squire John Murphy, of Lincoln, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. R. B. Rice, of the Hedgeville neighborhood. Miss Alice Surber is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Salie Eubanks, near here. Mrs. S. Hubble will go with her sister, Mrs. F. M. Ware, to visit relatives in Colorado about Aug. 1. Miss Maggie Swinbroad has returned from a visit among relatives in Stanford. —I. Y. Smith, for 12 years a deacon in the Broadway Christian church, Lexington, has deserted his wife and children and is supposed to have run away with a grass widow named Thomas. He has been living a double life for some time.

—Chill has paid $75,000 indemnity on account of the assault upon the crew of the Baltimore at Valparaiso last October. This is satisfactory to the United States. The money will be distributed among the families of the two sailors killed and the surviving members of the crew.

—At Benson, Franklin county, Ben and Sam Calmer, brothers, engaged in a religious discussion. As the debate became heated they hurled Scripture at each other in book form, and when the Bibles were used up sent chairs through the air. During this exchange of pleasantries Sam dropped dead. His physicians said he died of heart disease, but Ben Calmer was arrested pending the coroner's investigation.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—The large hog exhibited at the Lancaster fair was almost equal to those seen by Mortimer Adams on White river, in Arkansas.

—We are reliably informed that in the near future Lawyer Elijah Bastin and Rev. George Shepherd will, at Epheus church, discuss the great political issues of their country.

—Miss Nannie Harris, of Lancaster, is the guest of Mrs. J. H. Stephens. J. W. Moore leaves Thursday morning for Sacramento, Cal. Mrs. Ann Mayfield is at her father's, Wm. Stuart. Mrs. Eliza George, of Lancaster, is visiting Mrs. Clara W. Singleton.

—Lewis Allen Smith was tried before Judge Stephens Tuesday for the malicious cutting of Perry Emery, head waiter at Green Briar Springs, and held in the sum of $50 for his appearance at circuit court. This is the first case on record in which a coon and a white boy scuffled and the white boy used a razor.

—Miss Gustavia Phillips, of Monticello, is visiting the Misses Hardin. Miss Dollie Turpin, of Brodhead, was in our city Tuesday. John Lee Steinhaus, of Pineville, stopped over with us on his way back from Boyle county. We were quite glad to see Lee, who has been a chum of ours from early youth.

—Hon. Alexander Lusk addressed an appreciative audience at the Baptist church Tuesday night. His theme was political prohibition. Should the prohibition party succeed and a prohibitionist occupy the White House, and manage this grand government of ours, we would like to see this man, who has given his whole time and attention to the temperance cause ever since its infancy, secure a position that will repay him for the sledge-hammer blows he has struck in her defense.

—Our popular representative, Hon. D. B. Edmiston, is at home shaking hands with his many friends, at which no man in Kentucky can beat him. Sometimes there is a man tacked onto the democratic ticket who is a little hard for us to stomach, but we democrats of the East End will always take special delight in voting for D. B. Edmiston, whom we wish some day to see clerk of the Court of Appeals. As a clerk he is equaled by few and surpassed by none.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. W. E. Ellis will preach at Mt. Xenia at three o'clock Sunday afternoon.

—The Presbyterians are about to establish a college in Salt Lake City, and have purchased a site of 100 acres.

—The Kentucky State Sunday School Convention will be held Aug. 23-25 at Princeton. A Sunday school train will run through the State from Mayaville.

—Rev. A. V. Sizemore's meeting at Logan's Creek has resulted so far in 15 baptisms and 35 additions to the church. It will continue till next Sunday night.

—Rev. Ben Helm left yesterday to assist Rev. A. B. Simpson in a meeting at Asbury Park, N. J. He will likely go with him from there to Old Orchard, Me., but will return here in about a month.

—Ground was broken Monday afternoon for the 334 Baptist church—there being now 15 white and 17 colored Baptist churches in Louisville. The little children of the Sunday-school dug the first shovelful.

TRUE LOVE.

From Dear Kate's Scrap-Book.

I think true loves never blind,
But rather brings unadded light,
An inner vision, unobscured,
That enables him to see common right.

No soul can ever clearly see,
Another's highest, noblest part,
Save through the sweet philosophy
And loving wisdom of the heart.

Your unnumbered eyes shall tell,
On him who fills my soul with light,
You do not see my friend at all,
You see what hides him from your sight.

I see the feet that fan me with life's breeze,
You put the steps that carry stray;
I see the soft untroubled, sublime,
You put the garment and the clay.

You see a mortal, weak, misled,
Dwarfed ever by the earthly clod;
I see how manhood, perfected,
May reach the stature of a god.

Bonded I stand, as now you stand,
Till on my eyes with touches sweet,
Love the deliverer, laid his hand,
And lo! I waste no part of life.

W. P. WALTON.

Gov. McCREARY made a strong speech against Congress appropriating $5,000,000 for the World's Fair. His principal objections, and they are good ones, to the bill are that it makes the government a joint stockholder in a corporation to the amount of $5,000,000. Congress authorized a loan of $1,500,000 to the International Exposition in Philadelphia and $1,000,000 to the New Orleans Exposition, but no such unconstitutional measure as the government taking stock in a fair company has been sanctioned by Congress. The surplus in the treasury is exhausted and in the last few months government bonds which became due have not been paid. The financial situation forbids the appropriation. The act of Congress authorizing the president to invite people of foreign nations to the fair specially provides that our government should not be bound directly or indirectly for more than $1,500,000, and that amount has been paid. The people of Chicago agreed that they would furnish $10,000,000 and ask the government for only money enough for the erection of a government building and the proper display of government exhibits, and that amount has been furnished. It is estimated that the receipts of the fair will be $15,000,000, which added to the $10,000,000 furnished by Chicago, show that the Fair Company is not in a needy or embarrassed condition. The fair will not be open for visitors until May 1, 1893, nearly one year from the present, and this is not a proper time for the officers of the fair to ask for an appropriation. The bill was defeated 129 to 65.

Judge Little has announced his candidacy for Congress in the 2d district against Capt. W. T. Ellis. This is unfortunate at this late stage of the game, as the democrats ought to be in the most united condition for the campaign before them. Tom Pettit, nominated by the people's party and backed by the money and votes of the republicans, will make it hot enough for the trial race, no matter how popular the democratic candidate is, nor how thoroughly united the party may be.

The two officers who robbed the Nashville Savings Bank of $11,000 were captured on the Mexican frontier and brought back. One of them had curiosity to know what the papers said about their theft and wrote to a friend for some copies. Detectives were given the letter and they were enabled by it to bag their game. Even bank thieves seem not to be exempt from the great desire of the average man to see his name in print.

The family of the late Senator Plumb gives the Senate a much needed rebuke by requesting that the appropriation of $5,000 for his widow be stricken from the bill. The custom of making such appropriations should be broken up. The government is supposed to pay its employees in full for their services and any amount over and above this is a pure gratuity, unauthorized and indefensible except on purely sentimental considerations.

The president is making terms with his enemies, in a manner which shows he is scared up. He sent an ambassador to Platt, of New York, telling him that if he would roll up his sleeves and go to work for the republican ticket, he should manage the patronage of New York. It is also said that "Me Too" tumbled to that kind of argument and accepted the proposition.

Thomas A. Robertson, who succeeded Hon. J. Proctor Knott in Congress from the 4th Kentucky district and who served in the 48th and 49th Congress, died in Elizabethtown Monday. He was known as the red-headed son of destiny, and though not remarkably brilliant was an attractive and popular man.

That feminine monstrosity, Alice Mitchell, who killed Freda Ward for not reciprocating her unnatural affections, is on trial at Memphis. An effort is being strongly made to prove her insane, but whether she is or not she would be a mighty good creature to get rid of, either by hemp or life imprisonment.

Everything seems to be going Hardin county's way. In addition to obtaining judgment against the L. & N. for over $500,000, her wheat crop this year is estimated at over 100,000 bushels, the largest in her history. Hardin is a prohibition county and this may account for her good fortune.

GREEN KENHAM says in his Williamsburg Times that if a man should come out there and spell and pronounce words correctly, he would not be understood and if he should be he would be mobbed. That's pretty tough on Williamsburg. We wouldn't dare say anything so bad, even at this distance from her.

The New York World, realizing the value of singing in a campaign, has offered $500 for the best democratic song. Will S. Hays now has a chance to further distinguish himself and add to his bank account.

Discussion of the new revenue bill has brought out the fact that the auditor's agent in Jefferson county has drawn $48,250.77 from the treasury in the last four years, an average of over $12,000 for doing what the sheriff should be made to do. This tremendous leak should be calked, for two reasons: It is a useless drain on the treasury and it enables the auditor to practically fortify himself in office. The whole system of tax collecting ought to be changed. It costs Kentucky now over 10 per cent. to collect her tax, while the internal revenue is collected at about 2 per cent. The Legislature would do well to heed Mr. McClord's suggestions in the matter.

An immense multitude witnessed the formal notification ceremonies at New York Wednesday night, in the large Madison Square Garden, and gave our nominees an enthusiastic greeting. Congressman Wilson, chairman of the committee, made brief addresses to Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Stevenson, who responded in patriotic and effective speeches accepting the trust imposed in them. Mr. Cleveland emphasized his tariff for revenue only views and was particularly strong in his denunciation of the force bill.

SENATOR HILL has suddenly found that his duties at Washington demand some of his time and he very thoughtfully put it in during the notification ceremonies at New York. A man is naturally averse to attending his own funeral, but if this one had been as broad as he is said by his friends to be, he would have laid aside his personal feelings and joined in the throng that welcomed Cleveland and Stevenson Wednesday night.

GEORGE SHIRAS, of Pittsburgh, Harrison's new appointee to the Supreme bench, never held office of any kind before and is but little known outside of his section. He graduated at Yale with the famous class of 1853, in which were such men as Associate Justice Brewer, Chauncey Depew, etc. He has always lived in Pittsburgh and is 60 years of age. The papers say he is not a partisan, though the strongest kind of a high protectionist.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Gov. Brown vetoed the bill allowing the free passage over toll roads of ministers, funeral processions, school children and persons going to and from church on the ground that the Legislature has no right to pass such a law.

The Senate and House seem to be at loggerheads and can agree on nothing. They are so far apart on the revenue and corporation bills that conference committees even cannot get them together and consequently they are doing nothing of consequence.

All of the cooks in Paris have gone out on a strike and refuse to work for less than $2.50 per week. The housekeepers will not give that, and they are now presiding over the kitchens themselves.

At Belar, in Hungary, farm hands struck for higher wages and the soldiers were called out. There was great disorder and the soldiers fired into the crowd of men and women killing 12 and injuring many others before they would retreat.

DANVILLE.

An infant child of George Craig, who lives near the depot, died Tuesday evening and was buried on Wednesday evening.

Misses Mary McRoberts and Emma Weisgar, of Danville, took premiums at the Lancaster fair, the first on pastel work and the latter on an oil painting.

Judge J. B. Dennis, formerly of Danville and Stanford, was in town Wednesday. J. B. Engleman, of the Farmers National Bank, is out again, after a week's illness.

Squire W. H. Prewitt, of the West End, had a fainting spell at the depot yesterday. He soon regained consciousness, however, and this, Wednesday, morning was apparently as well as ever.

Nellie, the 17-year-old daughter of James Liston, formerly of this county, died of consumption at Harrodsburg Monday and was buried here Tuesday, after religious services at the Catholic church. Mike, a son of Mr. Liston, about 25 years old, is very low with the same disease.

Mrs. Sam Martin, who lived in the knobs near Parksville and who fell from a wagon, from which she was peddling blackberries, last Saturday, and broke her leg, died Tuesday night. It was proposed to amputate the limb Tuesday in order to save her life, but the physicians found that gangrene had set in and that the operation could do no good.

A letter received from a prominent citizen of Middleboro by a pro-Danville Tuesday says that the Watts Steel Plant will start up next Monday sure and certain, and that 600 or 700 men will begin work there and have steady and remunerative employment. The Watts plant, it will be remembered, covers 30 or 40 acres of ground and is made up of buildings, machinery, etc., of the best and most expensive quality, costing over $2,000,000.

Kate Lee and her young friend, Joe Johnson, were taken to Covington Tuesday morning by Deputy U. S. Marshal McCarty, of Frankfort, to answer to a charge of having sold intoxicating liquor to John Sord, the detective, who worked up the fire-bug cases against the said Kate Lee and others several months ago. Sord's mission seems to be to "detect." Woe unto him if he do not detect. Later, Kate gave bond Thursday morning and was released. Joe is still in jail.

All week, from Sunday evening until Wednesday evening, when the matter was disposed of, there had been much talk of a disgraceful row among negroes living on Smoky Row, near Harrodsburg avenue. At the trial "nobody didn't know nothin' below," although if street talk was of any account a large number of people, white and black, were attracted by the row and saw and listened to it. As the chief of police tried faithfully from Sunday until Wednesday to get people to talk, and they would not, the authorities should not be blamed if such offenses are not promptly punished.

Some months ago Detective John Sord had John Hammer, of Junction City, arrested for selling him a pint of corn whisky without government license. John was taken to Covington, and unable to give bond, remained in jail till a few days ago, when an official of Junction City told the Interior Journal he was tried and acquitted. Returning to his home, he last Saturday saw Sord and it is said tried to shoot him. Any way he was taken before Judge Tuttle and fined a small amount for disorderly conduct on a warrant, which had been sworn out by Sord before Judge McFerran, but which had been returned to Tuttle. Hammer declares with great solemnity that he never sold Sord whisky and that Sord caused his arrest because he, Hammer, would not do some swearing for him. Whether the swearing referred to was ordinary, every day profanity or swearing of some other variety, is not stated.

Measles, Sautley, Noel and Breckinridge, candidates for circuit court judge, spoke here Monday and all made "monstrous" good speeches, if the verdict of their respective partisans be accepted as just. Although no reference was made by either gentleman in his speech to the fact, yet it is nevertheless accepted as one that opponents of Judge Breckinridge are urging that he secured the passage of a law which ultimately led to the illegality of the sale of liquor by retail in Boyle county, and that opponents of Mr. Noel charge that once, several years ago, he voted for a prohibitionist, when a democrat was in the field. What Judge Sautley thought and did at that time is not known to the writer, nor should it have the least effect upon his candidacy what he thought and did, as it is well known that like his opponents, he is a thorough lawyer, and if elected will make a model judge. But this, by the way. There were hundreds of democrats in this (now 13) district who at the time Mr. Noel cast his vote and Mr. Breckinridge secured the passage of his bill, endorsed the action of both and if the proscription of either is attempted for what he then did, the attempt may act as a boomerang and smite whoever attempts it. Don't forget that it was largely democratic votes that at one time made Lincoln, Garrard, and Mercer prohibition counties, and that in criticizing the acts of Breckinridge and

THE report that Mr. and Mrs. John McClure, of Crab Orchard, had killed and made up, she having convinced him that nothing of a compromising nature had occurred between her and R. Lee Davis, proves to be untrue. The Louisville Times contained a "dispatch" from Crab Orchard of a half column, giving the story of the reconciliation, but it wasn't sent over the wires and friends of Mr. McClure say it was written by Davis himself.

THE vicinity of Yosemite is in a high state of excitement over the attempted rape of Miss Eliza Hatter, by a negro named Hayden, on Tuesday last. We learned from Dr. Wesley, of Middleburg, that the negro went to Miss Hatter's home, near Yosemite and asked for something to eat. The young lady told him that she had nothing, when the brute began to look around the house. He found out that she was alone and going up to her and catching her by the hand made an indecent proposal, to her, at the same time offering her 50 cents to be allowed to accomplish his hellish purpose. Miss Hatter screamed and the negro fearing that help would come to the unfortunate lady, took to his heels. The report of the attempted rape was soon circulated and search was begun. After hunting for several hours Deputy Sheriff Wheat ran upon him and took him to Liberty, where he was placed in jail. Talk of a mob was heard of by the sheriff and on Wednesday the prisoner was taken to Danville for safe keeping. A cousin of Miss Hatter, whose name we would not learn, made a desperate effort to kill the negro, but was prevented by one of the posse knocking his gun just as he was attempting to shoot.

There are 35 or more people put at Hale's Well now, having the biggest kind of a time.

HAVING purchased from M. H. Halsey, M. D., of New York, the Glomerular process for the painless extraction of teeth, I am now prepared to extract or fill teeth without pain. A trial will convince the most skeptical. W. B. Penny, Surgeon Dentist.

WHILE playing in B. K. and W. H. Wear's store with a lot of boys a few nights ago, Ed Jones fell over a tub and broke the muscle of his right arm. The accident is a very painful one and Mr. Jones will have to carry his arm in a sling for a long time.

THE Flying Dutchman is still with us and its clever proprietor, Mr. W. B. Andrews, is raking in the shakels. Old and young, little and big, take an airing on it and the tent presents a lively scene from 9 to 10 p. m. The best order is kept and everybody finds it a pleasant place to spend an hour.

THE old layard who presides over the editorial columns of the Louisville Times, has this reliable prognostication from one of the few really reliable prognosticators: "The first katydid of the season sounded the frost alarm last night. Forty days hence—August 30—look out for congealed dew. Katy's forecasts are reliable as Foster's."

THE best game of ball ever seen on our grounds, was played here Tuesday afternoon between the Danvilles and the Interior Journal. Not a score was made till the latter part of the eighth inning, when our first baseman muffed an easy ball that was thrown to him and as a result three runs were let in. No more scores were made and the score stood 3 to 0. Excepting Haggerman's error on first it was almost a perfect game and many of the lovers of base ball who had begun to lose interest in the game were started in afresh and will follow our team to Danville this afternoon. Hennessey and Jones were the battery for the visitors and Daniels and Sullivan for the I. J's. Struck out by Hennessey, seven; by Daniels 14. Passed balls, Jones one; Sullivan none. Stuffy of the home team played a beautiful game, getting in a two-bagger and catching a fly that seemed almost a miracle. Shanks inspired and his decisions were pretty severely criticised, probably more by our boys than by the Danvilles.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—James Collins, a worthy citizen of the Farmersville neighborhood, died on Wednesday evening, aged 87. He married a Miss Faulkner and raised a large family.

—Mr. Edwin McRoberts, better known as "Uncle Ed," died Wednesday morning of erysipelas and kidney disease. He was one of the sons of the four brothers who moved from Virginia to this county 100 years ago next year, and settled on Hawkins' Branch. His father owned the place now belonging to Mr. J. F. Bruce, a grand son, and it was there that Uncle Ed was born 74 years ago. As soon as he was old enough he learned the carpenter's trade, at which he worked till about 10 years ago, and at which he accumulated a fair estate. His health failed then and he has since spent most of his time, either at McRoberts' drug store or sitting in front of his buildings on Main street, in one room of which he stayed. He was peculiar both in his ways and conversation and was remarkable for the fact that he would rarely ever give a direct answer to a question, which involved anything that seemed to exceed in this day any event of the earlier times. Though not a member of the church, those who knew him well say that he was as strong in the faith of the Christian church as any man in it. One by one the old landmarks are fast disappearing and soon there will be no connecting link with those who knew this section in the infancy of its settlement by the white people. Uncle Ed could tell many marvellous stories about the earlier times and give many interesting reminiscences of the days when he was the champion athlete of all this section. He is the last of six children but one, Mr. A. G. McRoberts, of Indiana, surviving. The remains were interred in Buffalo Cemetery, Wednesday afternoon, after a short service at the grave by Rev. W. E. Ellis.

Green Briar Springs.

I am just in receipt of a letter from a Stanford lady saying, "Myself and a friend desire to spend a couple of weeks at your place, but we hear there are no guests there." This is entirely a mistake. We have a nice, pleasant crowd of people, with not a single "lady" among them. We have had 15 arrivals this week and none for a shorter period than two weeks, and the majority for the whole summer, besides many others have written that they will arrive next week. We have an excellent band of music, violin and harp, and we dance every night, except Sunday.

This fine after the Barons meeting was over we were left with only five boarders for a day or two, but the prospects are now that within the next ten days every room on the place will be filled. So no one need stay away thinking they will not find any one here. My terms are $7 per week, $25 for four weeks. Clubs of five persons, all to arrive at one time, $30 per week. Clubs of ten persons $50; clubs of 20 persons $100 per week and board free to party who works up the club, or in other words, 21 persons for $100.

Now, if you want to have a jolly good time, make up your clubs and come to Green Briar.

Fancy Dress Ball this Friday night, and Basket Picnic on Saturday, July 30th. Everybody invited.
